About Aarav Ananth

Aarav Ananth – In Loving Memory

Aarav was a bright, honest, and quick learner, admired by everyone who met him. From a young age, he displayed a rare blend of intelligence, discipline, and curiosity.

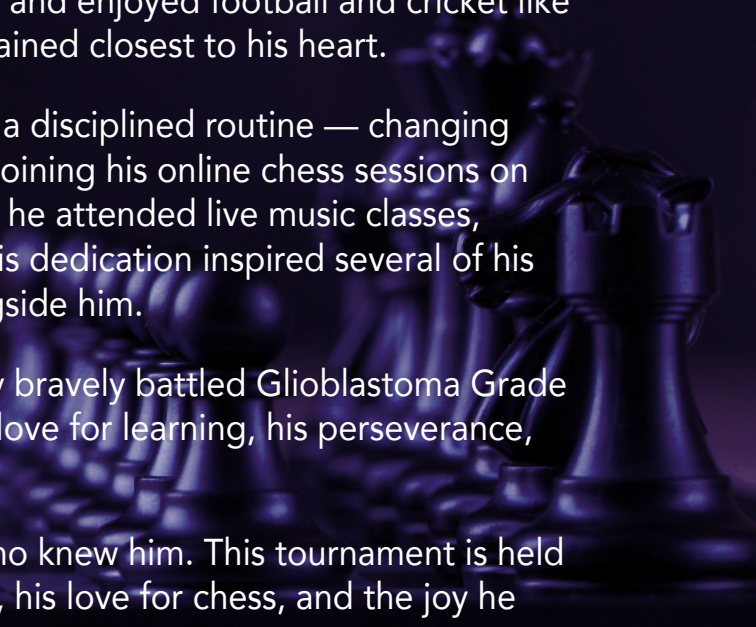

He discovered chess at the age of four and was trained by Karthik Shetty of Innovators Chess Academy. An “A” grade student in academics, Aarav was a true all-rounder who loved multitasking and exploring new interests. His hobbies included swimming, cricket, piano, reading books such as Wings of Fire and Harry Potter, and above all, playing chess.

As he grew older, chess became his greatest passion. Whether solving puzzles, competing online, or playing with his father, cousins, friends, and even his uncle in Australia, Aarav always found joy in the game. He could solve a Rubik’s Cube in under a minute and enjoyed football and cricket like most children his age — yet chess remained closest to his heart.

Every day after school, Aarav followed a disciplined routine — changing out of his uniform, eating quickly, and joining his online chess sessions on alternate days. On the remaining days, he attended live music classes, balancing everything with self-study. His dedication inspired several of his friends to take up chess and play alongside him.

In the last four months of his life, Aarav bravely battled Glioblastoma Grade 4. Even during this difficult period, his love for learning, his perseverance, and his passion for chess never faded.

Aarav continues to inspire everyone who knew him. This tournament is held in his memory — to celebrate his spirit, his love for chess, and the joy he brought into so many lives.
